BG 'Frenchmen' Deny Red China, Hear UN Ideas At Indiana Meet

Four Bowling Green students represented France at the Little United Nations Assembly, held at the University of Indiana, March 4, 5, and 6. The students were Herb Barr, who served on the Economic Committee, John Gargus, Trusteeship; Richard Marshner, Political; and Sara Robinson, Legal Committee.

Wisconsin Walks Out
Present at the assembly were students representing 36 universities and colleges from seven Midwestern states. The major issues discussed by the group were: admittance to the UN of Red China, Bowling Green representing the French delegation's point of view, voted against the measure which was later defeated; Aid to underdeveloped nations passed with the approval of the French delegation and a discussion of the elimination of the veto was passed although the Soviet delegation, represented by the University of Wisconsin, walked out of the session.

Cohen States UN Purpose
Benjamin Cohen, UN undersecretary of the Department of Trusteeship and Information from Non-Self-Governing Territories, told the group at the opening session, Friday evening, that the UN was established to maintain peace in the world and not to create it. Mr. Cohen said, "The UN has given the people of the world a new hope for tomorrow." "It is possible for all nations to work together, not in competition, but with a desire for complete cooperation." He said "Some day we shall see how the 'reality of today' emerged from the dream of yesterday."

Other speakers at the Little Assembly were Dr. Henry R. Hope, US adviser on cultural activities at a recent UNESCO conference in Montevideo, Uruguay and Dr. Edward H. Buehrig, former State Department foreign service officer, who served as a member of the United States Delegation at the first UN Conference in San Francisco in 1945.

The students representing the University were sponsored by the Student Senate.

O'Reilly Speaks Of Photography

"The importance of lighting in photography cannot be overemphasized," stated Tom O'Reilly in an informal talk before a joint meeting of Kappa Alpha Mu, recognition society in photo-journalism, and Press Club in the Fine Arts Auditorium, Thursday, March 10.

The speaker was introduced by Donald C. Peterson, KAM adviser.

Mr. O'Reilly stressed the importance of lighting and how to achieve the best effects. He also discussed other technical problems in photography, using pictures he had taken to illustrate his comments.

The speaker continued his talk with a discussion of the job of news photographers. He pointed out that about 99 per cent of the assignments are of a routine or feature nature. There is very little actual news photography. This is especially true of The Toledo Blade, which has little competition for circulation. Mr. O'Reilly used many personal experiences to illustrate this part of his talk.

Mr. O'Reilly has been associated with The Blade for 16 years. During that time he has covered two national political conventions in addition to many other important assignments. He also does some magazine work.

Prince, Maiden, Fairies Perform In Children's Musical Saturday

Prince Charming and the magic world of fairyland are coming to Gate Theatre Saturday, March 19. A musical children's play, "The Three Spinning Fairies," brings a prince, fairies, a pretty maiden, and a problem-making Queen Mother together for an hour of fantasy based on a Grimm's fairy tale. James Liedtke, graduate student in speech, is the writer and director of the play.

Two performances of the play are scheduled. The Saturday matinee is for Bowling Green grade school pupils only, Liedtke said. The 7:30 evening performance is open to the University. Liedtke said there is no admission charge or reserved seats.

Director Liedtke, who is working for his master's degree, has also written the songs and dances for the play. The music has been recorded.

The cast of eight includes Jack Roth, Carolyn Cathcart, Joan McKinney, Charlotte Koch, Lee Foster, Winifred Hartzell, Peggy Payne, and Cindy Dicken.

About half of the 25 costumes in the play, Liedtke said, were made by three University students, Jean McCandlish, Helen Harned, and Miss Hartzell. The costumes were designed by Liedtke.

The set was designed by technical director Lucy Ann Liggett, graduate student in speech.

Technical crews for the play are: Make-up, Carol Joe Byrns and Lois Taraschke; Props, Mary Anne Neillands and Barbara Eyre; Sound, Johanna Todd; Costumes, the Misses McCandlish, Harned, and Hartzell; Lighting, Deloris Conley and Don Hinde; Painting and Construction, Frank Glann and Noel Greenhill.

Don Percy, IFC president, hands out bids to eager freshmen Saturday morning in the PA auditorium. As of Sunday morning 140 of nearly 300 men had picked up bids.

Alumni Mag At Press, Ready In March: Gustin

The Alumni Magazine is scheduled to go to press today and will be available for distribution the last week in March, stated Mary Jane Gustin, editor.

According to Miss Gustin, the magazine will contain 20 pages and will feature news about alumni from various University departments. The cover of the magazine will be a photograph of the three vice-presidents of the Alumni Association.

The vice-presidents are Forrest Smith, '39, Bowling Green; Donald Simmons, '39, Perrysburg; and Joe Coale, '43, Chicago.

Open Rushing Period Until 4 Tomorrow

Interfraternity Council announced that an open rushing period has been in effect since 8 yesterday morning. Open rushing will continue until 4 p.m. tomorrow. Men who did not pick up a bid on Saturday may do so at the Dean of Students office between the above times. Fraternities are allowed to submit additional bids for eligible men who have not yet committed themselves.

PR Presents Parade Preceding Photoplay

The Pershing Rifle Company I-1 of the Artillery ROTC department presented a variety of drills at the Cla-Zel Theater last Thursday evening preceding the first showing of "The Long Gray Line" to the Bowling Green public.

The program consisted of three types of drills basic, precision, and fancy. The fancy-drill team, led by cadet Berton Keith, performed intricate maneuvers including a 16-count manual, order manual, kick-right shoulder, and a Queen Anne salute.

ODK Sponsors April Conference For Leadership

An all-day leadership conference, sponsored by Omicron Delta Kappa, leadership honor society for men, will be held Saturday, April 30, at Lakeside.

John Peterson, chairman of the conference, said that those attending would leave Bowling Green at 8 a.m. and return at approximately 8:30 p.m. Some 50 to 60 faculty and administrative members will attend and 70 to 80 students. The faculty and administration will be chosen by the Faculty Council, and the students will be selected by the members of the Beta Tau Circle of ODK.

Central theme of the conference will be the "Responsibilities of Campus Leadership." This topic will be divided into three sub-topics: "Fostering a General Attitude Encouraging Scholarship, Responsibilities in Extra-Mural Activities, and Responsibilities in Extra-curricular Activities."

Panels of students, administrative, and faculty guests will discuss these topics. Students moderators for the panels will be Roger Kasten, Donald Packard, and Robert Smith, all ODK members.

Pres. Ralph W. McDonald will attend the conference, originally scheduled for April 16, but changed because of the lack of proper facilities, Peterson stated.

Bennett Litherland, Robert Pich, Dean Emerson C. Shuck, and graduate students Thomas Dunford and Herb Goertz are members of the Leadership Conference committee.

Future Teachers Quiz Profs On Panel At Education Convo

"What Students Want to Know" was the topic of the convocation of the College of Education held March 10 in the main auditorium.

Professors John E. Gee, Clyde Hissong, Ralph L. Beck, Warren Pelton, and Charles Young acted as panel members answering and discussing questions submitted prior to the assembly by students. Questions posed by last semester's student teachers in their meetings after completing their teaching assignments were also incorporated in the discussion.

PanHel Greet Pops Orchestra

Panhellenic Council will give a reception in honor of Arthur Feidler and members of the Boston "Pops" Orchestra Sunday, March 20, in Studio B of the Practical Arts Bldg., announced Alice Wojton. The reception will follow the orchestra's performance that evening.

The following committees have been appointed for the reception: Alice Wojton, general chairman; Mary Berg, refreshments; Andrea Robbins, invitations; Carolyn Hill, decorations and set-up; Alice Surrall, publicity; Joan Nichols, coat-check, and Sandy Traver, hostesses.

English Majors Vie For Honors

English majors with a minimum 3.5 point average in English, and at least a 3.0 minimum in all courses may apply for the honors program in English, stated Dr. Howard O. Brogan, professor of English.

Superior work for six semester hours in the 495 Honors in English course, leads, upon recommendation of the English department, to graduation with honors in English.

The course consists of readings which are tailor-made to satisfy the interests of the students involved. Virginia E. Pierce and Cleburne L. Quinn are currently enrolled. This is the only honors program operating at the University.

Big City Theme Chosen For April 22 Festivity

"It's Magic, It's Mellow, It's Morrow." This completes the slogan adopted by the Greek Week publicity committee to announce the appearance of Buddy Morrow, his trombone, and his band at the annual Greek Week Dance, Friday, April 22.

The dance centers around a big city scene, and will be entitled, "New York, New York." The dance and other events of the week are being sponsored by all the Bowling Green fraternities and sororities.

Buddy Morrow has been in the music world since he was 13 years old, and has been playing professionally since his debut at his home town, New Haven, Conn., high school prom when he was only 15.

Attended Juilliard
He attended the Juilliard School of Music in New York on a scholarship and remained there until he was offered a job by Paul Whiteman. Buddy played with Eddie Duchin, Artie Shaw, Vincent Lopez, and Tommy Dorsey after his Whiteman engagement and before he entered the service in World War II.

After three years in the navy, Buddy returned to form his own group and specialize in rhythm and blues numbers. After a long pull he reached the top when his recording of "Night Train" was released.

"Magic Mellow"
In 1951 the "Magic, Mellow" band was voted the most promising in the land by a poll of more than 2,000 disk jockeys throughout the country. His trombone is of particular interest because it is insured for $10,000. It seems that the actual value of the instrument is only $600 but because of special materials used and the custom designing that could not readily be duplicated by a commercial manufacturer, it has a very special value.

Buddy's Recordings
Buddy's more popular recordings of the last few years include "Night Train," "Hey Mrs. Jones," "I Don't Know," "Greyhound," and "Stairway to the Stars."

His featured singer, Dorothy Kae, is the girl whose picture appeared in last Tuesday's edition of The B-G News over the slogan. Dancing will be from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. in the Men's Gymnasium.

Kasten, Weckesser To Attend National Debate Tournament

Roger N. Kasten, Bud Weckesser, and Dr. Donald C. Kleckner, director of forensics, will travel to Redlands, Calif., for the national Pi Kappa Delta debate tournament at the University of Redlands April 4 to 8.

Weckesser and Kasten were chosen to represent the University for their work in forensics. They have been debating together for two years and in that time have won 75 per cent of their debate contests. Both have been in forensics for the past four years.

The men have excellent records in individual events, often placing near the top against many contestants and gaining superior rating for their efforts. During their careers as debaters, Kasten and Weckesser have won over such schools as the University of Washington, Ohio State University, University of Notre Dame, Harvard University, and University of Illinois.

Kasten, in addition to debating, will enter the extemporaneous speaking contests and will talk on various phases of Western European Defense. Weckesser will enter original oratory and talk on "No Greater Dilemma," which deals with cheating in colleges and universities.

The men have spoken to service clubs, including the Toledo Kiwanis, to raise money for the trip.

Attendance At The Artist Series

Another bit of evidence of the lack of student participation in one of the University's major programs has been brought out by Artist Series Committee Chairman John H. Hepler.

Next year, Mr. Hepler said, the opera has been dropped from the Series, list both because of the lack of support for the program and because of technical problems. The attendance for William Warfield was poor also, even though the committee had rescheduled him because of the popularity of his performance two years ago.

Mr. Hepler said his records show that "over the past five concerts we have averaged about 700 students per concert. Seven hundred out of three thousand!"

The main reason which circulates through the campus for lack of support of the Series is the uncomfortable bleachers in the Men's Gym. It is the belief of the committee that the performers scheduled are of such calibre that the bleacher seats should make little difference.

From the student's standpoint, those who are earnest in their studying at least, very often attending such a program consumes more of his time than he cares to give up. Most students, we believe, realize that programs such as the Artist Series are a part of their education and are selective in choosing the performances which will enrich them most.

Perhaps the present connotations of the word "culture" have something to do with students shying away from anything which would make them appear pedantic. It might be equally true that many students simply are not interested in the type of programs. We're certain the committee would not object to receiving any comments students might wish to make about the Artist Series, and will gladly receive any suggestions as to the type of performance and even specific artists you may wish to have brought to the campus.

At any rate Mr. Hepler's advice toward the treatment of the performers of the Series while on this campus is well taken. That is that "any artist will be more likely to remember Bowling Green State University for a full, enthusiastic house than for all the gold-plated valets we could provide!"

Travel Group Sponsors $1,425 Motor Scooter Tour Of Europe

BY GERALD MURRAY

We received material describing a motor scooter tour of Europe recently. We receive numerous offers for tours of Europe—by bicycle, by air, by auto, for study in any number of foreign universities, a special tour for college editors who would be given the opportunity to interview the outstanding European political figures just to name a few. It's surprising no one has offered us a chance to walk across the continent.

MURRAY

The motor scooter tour is sponsored by Union Tours Inc. In the bargain, tour members will travel across the Atlantic by air. Upon arrival in Milan, Italy, they will be given a Lambretta motor scooter on which they will proceed to scooter across Italy, France, Austria, Liechtenstein, and Switzerland.

The person driving the motor scooter throughout the tour would automatically gain possession of the scooter upon completion of the trip. Each driver may take a companion with him, a tandem seat being provided on the scooter.

Other features of the tour included in the cost are accessories to the scooter, hotel reservations, tips and taxes, breakfasts and dinners, and a guide-mechanic. The price for one person to a scooter is $1,425. For two persons to a scooter, the cost for the driver who will own the scooter upon completion of the tour is $1,295, and for his companion, $1,295.

Another bit of publicity material we have received recently is directed to women who like palmans

WBGU Expands Studio Facilities; Honorary Rearranges Equipment

WBGU has expanded its facilities this semester through the combined efforts of student staff members and Rho Sigma Mu, recognition society in radio.

Students rearranged the main studio and rebuilt the console table for easier handling of controls by the engineer.

One of two announcing booths was removed to provide more working space in the main studio. Additional carpeting for the station was obtained to cover the entire broadcasting area.

Equipment was also installed to permit broadcasting from Studio B. The studio was opened last Tuesday.

A self-closing door was installed between the WBGU studio and the recreation hall to cut down outside noise.

The station now has three studios and a smaller announcing booth for broadcasting facilities. One of the studios is used for news programs, live shows, and classes. The other studios may be used for music shows and engineering operations.

Class Learns To Predict Weather

Planning a trip into the country? You may wonder what kind of weather we are going to have so that you can plan that trip to the beach or quarry and the meteorology class may help you.

This class takes the readings of weather instruments and makes predictions to see whether or not we will have rain or sunshine.

The instruments used for these observations are located in the white frame box on stilts on the Elementary Bldg. playground.

The instruments are a rain gauge, "max-min" thermometer, for reading maximum and minimum temperature over a 24-hour period; thermograph which takes temperature continuously; wind vane, located on top of the Commons; and a barometer for humidity reading, located in the library.

Malone Reviews ROTC Program

Col. Thomas R. Malone Jr., professor of military science and tactics, is currently speaking to senior high school students in northwestern Ohio on the Artillery ROTC program at Bowling Green State University.

Colonel Malone is speaking at most of these schools in conjunction with their college day programs. Representatives from many colleges and universities in this area appear at these programs to discuss their schools with students interested in attending college.

"An ROTC film, 'Learn Today—Lead Tomorrow,' followed by a short speech constitutes the ROTC orientation," said Colonel Malone. "Following this program I'm available for individual questioning," he added.

Colonel Malone is scheduled to speak at 15 high schools in this area. He has appeared at schools in Napoleon, Findlay, Bellevue, Fostoria, Bryan, and Paulding.

Letters To The Editor

Editorial On ROTC Dance Is Challenged

Dear Editor,

I was quite concerned about your editorial of March 11, entitled "The High and the Mighty." After reading it, I was thoroughly convinced that little thought was incorporated in its makeup.

Your comparison between the ROTC and the Greek situation was not very impressive. You must remember that the Greeks have an ulterior motive for their move. It is quite possible that the Greeks use their dance as a subtle way of rushing. As far as I know, the ROTC has its complement of men long before the Military Ball.

If people on campus wish to dance to the music of Ralph Flanagan, there is still time to employ his services for the U-A Prom.

Yours for better editorials,
Harold Yawberg

Editor's Note: Sororities pledged Feb. 26; Fraternities pledged March 12; Greek Week dance is April 22. Is this rushing?

Dear Editor:

We feel that some explanation is necessary in connection with your recent editorial concerning the Military Ball.

Because of the large number of cadets and invited guests it was impossible for us to open the dance to the general public. It was also felt by the committee that in the past large numbers of persons standing along the upper track of the gym, distracted from the atmosphere of a formal affair. We believe that the opportunity to view the presentation of the queens, from this advantageous position, should be offered to our cadets and invited guests.

We hope that this brief explanation will clarify the situation to you and the student body.

Ed Haller and Harry Thal
Chairmen of the Military Ball

Dear Editor:

I would like to reply to the editorial which appeared in Friday's B-G News entitled "BG Hospitality." It is evident that the writer was not only unfamiliar with the local situation but also with the entire professional booking system.

Let me point out the intricacies of obtaining one artist for one concert. The Artist Series Committee is now in the process of preparing next year's series, so let's take a current situation. Literally hundreds and hundreds of brochures have been received announcing artists who will be available. In addition, there have been and will be innumerable phone calls and personal appointments with people who are "selling" the performers. These are the salesmen. They work for an agency who has been hired by a concert or lecture bureau, usually with headquarters in the east.

Hotel reservations, transportation plans and all other provisions and permissions are handled by the eastern headquarters, often as much as a year in advance. You will notice that the artist himself has had no part in these arrangements.

I do not see why the writer of the editorial feels we did not show Mr. Isaac Stern the proper hospitality. A member of the committee met Mr. Stern at the Toledo airport and brought him to the campus in time for a late afternoon rehearsal. At that time it was learned that he was to stay in Bowling Green overnight. A local organization had made the proper arrangements to provide transportation before and after the concert. The committee took Mr. Stern back to Toledo the next morning.

And it is certainly not that the committee feels a lack of obligation toward a "hired performer." An investigation will show that such persons are not considered as guests of the University and therefore, accommodations at the University Guest House are not to be anticipated.

If the editorial writer is honestly concerned about the artist's reactions, I would suggest that he expend his energies on a more vital subject. My records show that over the past five concerts we have averaged about 700 STUDENTS PER CONCERT. Seven hundred out of three thousand!

I am sure that any artist will be more likely to remember Bowling Green State University for a full, enthusiastic house than for all the gold-plated valets we could provide!

Very truly yours,
John H. Hepler, chairman
Artist Series Committee

Swimmers Take Third In MAC Competition

By BILL COOPER

Miami University pulled an upset by winning the Mid-American Conference swimming championship from the BG Falcons and defending champions Ohio University during the three-day meet at Kent State's Fieldhouse last week end.

Miami scored 110 points to nip Ohio U. with 100, and the Falcons finished a close third with 97 points. Ken State, the only other MAC school to have a team at the championship, trailed the pack with 28 points. OU had won the championship the first two years it was held, 1953 and '54, and along with BG, were favorites to battle it out for top honors this year.

BG Takes Early Lead

Bowling Green had a 56-53 lead over Miami at the end of the second day and it looked like the Falcons had a chance of bringing home their first MAC crown. OU was third with 46 and Kent State had 15.

However, Miami's Dennis O'Brien captured two events in the final day to practically ice the championship for Miami. O'Brien won the 100-yard backstroke in the first event of the last day and later set a new pool and conference record in the 150-yard medley.

O'Connor Wins First Event

Jim O'Connor got BG off to a fast start by winning the first event of the championship. O'Connor took a first in the 1500 meters in 21:12.6, winning over teammate Dave Hamilton who finished in 21:48. Miami's Heidy took a third while Richmond of OU got a fourth.

Tad Potter, OU, opened the second day's events with a record smashing :23.3 in the 50 yard free style. The Falcons' Don Kepler came close to Potter as he came home in :23.8. Ralph Carbonero, BG, got a fourth as he followed Rowland of Miami to the finish line.

Paul Dressel, BG's gifted tankman, won the 200-yard backstroke by nipping O'Brien from Miami. OU's Michael picked up a third for his team. Kepler tied the pool record as he easily won the 220 free style. Paul Atkinson and O'Connor finished second and fourth respectively in this event to give the Falcons valuable points.

Falcons Falter

Bowling Green finished out of the running in the 220-yard breast stroke, which didn't help. A place in this event could have put the Falcons in closer contention. The same was true of the one-meter diving, as the BG tankmen failed to get a point.

The 440-yard free style relay was won by BG's fine team composed of Atkinson, Hamilton, Dick Rose, and Karl Seidl. They defeated Miami while Kent State finished third.

The last day meant the downfall for the Falcons as they held a lead up to this time. O'Brien got Miami back in the lead by copping the 100-yard backstroke, as Dressel of BG finished second.

Again the Falcons were shutout in an event, not placing anyone in the 200-yard breast stroke. OU won this event as Miami picked up second and third.

Potter Wins For OU

Potter, OU, captured his second MAC championship as he won the 100-yard free style. Kepler, BG, finished a close second while Dick Rowland of Miami gained third place.

O'Connor took his second event of the championship by splashing his way to a first in the 440-yard style. O'Connor broke his own record that he had set earlier in the season as he breezed home in 5:9.5 to clip seven seconds off his old mark.

Bowling Green showed its greatest depth in the 150-yard medley even though they did not win. O'Brien took first place for Miami but was hard-pressed by Rose who got second. Atkinson and Seidl got third and fourths to give BG a good representation. O'Brien set a new conference record as he won the event.

BG Diving Fails

The Falcons' chances for the crown were ruined when they failed to take any points in the three-meter diving event. OU took the first two places while Miami got a third and fourth. John Boutch, OU, won the event for the third consecutive year.

In the final event of the meet, Ohio U. won the 300-yard medley relay by topping the Falcons. Miami finished third while Kent came in fourth. This clinched the final standings.

Phi Delts Clinch Intramural Tie

The Independent basketball season has come to a close and the two league champions, the Cast-offs and Ma Phillips Oilers, will play for the championship, Thursday night, March 17, at 7:30.

Weekend Action

Fraternity basketball progressed rapidly over the week end as a heavy schedule was played on Saturday and probably the most climatic game of the season was played on Sunday.

Phi Delta Theta remained undefeated as they outscored Zeta Beta Tau 28-22. Delta Upsilon continued their successful season as they whipped Alpha Tau Omega 29-21. Pi Kappa Alpha continued their winning ways as they turned back Sigma Nu 36-31. This loss eliminated them from any championship hopes.

There was also two forfeit games on Saturday. Theta Chi beat Phi Kappa Psi by this means and Phi Kappa Tau won from Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Phi Delts Win

On Sunday, the Phi Delts clinched at least a tie for the title as they beat Sigma Nu 32-24. If they beat Phi Kappa Tau on Wednesday, they will win the league and meet the winner of the Independent playoff next Monday night. The only other contender, Sigma Chi, must beat Sigma Nu and Sigma Alpha Epsilon and hope for that Phi Delt loss to tie for the honors. The top four teams are: Phi Delta Theta, 12-0; Sigma Chi, 10-1; Delta Upsilon, 9-3; and SAE, 6-2.

SPORTS ANNOUNCEMENT

Coach Don Cunningham has announced a meeting of all freshmen and varsity golf candidates Tuesday, March 15 at 4 o'clock in Room 300 of the Men's Gymnasium.

All those interested in going out for golf should report.

AUTO AGENT TO GIVE TALK

Films and slides, followed by a discussion, will be shown tomorrow at 3:45 p.m. in the Recreation Hall by Bruce Markely, field representative of Lincoln-Mercury.

PRESSBOX PORTRAITS

By DICK BUDD

Miami University surprised everyone Saturday by clipping Ohio U. and BG in the Mid-American Conference swim meet at Kent State. Going into the final day of the meet, Bowling Green was leading the field with 56 points and the Redskins were resting in second three points behind.

Jim O'Connor was probably the outstanding individual swimmer for the Falcons, winning the 1500 meters and the 440-yard freestyle. In winning the 440, O'Connor broke the pool record and shaved seven seconds off the old record which he had set in a dual meet.

In the second-day events, Miami placed a second and third in the one-meter diving which gave the Falcons the opportunity to move into first place.

Disregarding or including the MAC meet, the Falcons proved to be one of BG's top swimming teams in many seasons and its own guess that the swimmers will be next year's conference champs.

The NABC Bulletin, edited by Harold Anderson, came out this week with 16 pages devoted to articles on the "bonus rule."

Mel Murray, who broadcasts all Bowling Green home games over Fostoria, feels that the bonus rule has slowed up the game considerably. In addition to the sports-caster's complaint about the bonus rule, he states, "The game no longer belongs to the players, but the officials."

We are very much inclined to agree with Mr. Murray on this point. Fans have become accustomed to watching officials rather than players, probably because they create a better scene.

Dean Wakefield, sports editor of the Sentinel-Tribune, adds his comments to the con side of the issue. He feels that "the basket has been legislated right out of basketball."

Another area sports figure commenting on the bonus rule was the Blade's Chet Sullwold. Sullwold feels that the answer to the problem lies in a team's defense. He states that a team wouldn't foul if it weren't for what he terms "sloppy defense."

Basketball, up until this season, was a fast game, and certainly stopping the clock every three minutes doesn't add to this purpose.

We believe as well as the next guy, that a foul should be penalized, but why a gift shot to boot. A player who habitually fouls will leave the ball game just as fast regardless of how many shots the fouled man receives. It only takes five. Isn't that enough of a penalty?

Al Bianchi, former Falcon cage star, is still setting the hardwoods afire with his fall-away jump shot. Bianchi is playing with Brook's

The addition of William Gunlock to the Falcon football staff rounds out the coaching staff for next season. Gunlock will probably be Doyt Perry's new end coach.

Last night we had the privilege of attending the athletic banquet for fall and winter sports. The list of lettermen for these sports will be available for publication in the Friday issue of the B-G News.

Matthews Hopeful As Thinclads Open Spring Workouts

The Bowling Green track team has opened workouts under coach Dave Matthews in preparation for the first outdoor meet with Wayne University on April 19. Matthews begins his seventh year as BG track mentor and prospects point to this being one of the best.

Matthews expects to have a well-balanced team with good performers in every event and great depth in the sprints. Both relay teams should be very strong this year, according to Matthews.

Servicemen Returning

Adding strength in the sprints are two returning servicemen, Jerry Noss and John Chambers. Both these men are capable of running anything up to the 440. Joining them are Danny Springer, this year's captain, and sophomores Floyd Lennox and Carlos Jackson. Springer is a three-year veteran with a 21.8 220 to his credit, but may move up to the 440 this year, due to his ability and the wealth of men to replace him.

A sophomore, Ted Thomas, is another top quarter-mile candidate, having run a 51.6 this winter in a meet at the University of Michigan. Letterman Waldon Keith will add further strength if he decides to return to the cinder sport.

In the half-mile Jack Mortland and Joe DeLuca, both sophomores, appear to be the top candidates. Mortland is a cross country letterman.

DeLaRonde Looks Strong

Bob DeLaRonde, who last year set freshman records in both the 880 and the mile, should be the top man in the mile and two-mile this year. DeLaRonde along with letterman John Luccio should give the Falcons good strength in the distances. Sophomores Larry Trask and Dan Duricy, both cross country lettermen, will lend added strength in the two-mile.

Hurdlers Strong

Max Chapman tied the varsity record in the high hurdles last year with a 15.2 effort, and will return to try and lower it this year. Another record setter in the hurdles is Jim Tucker, who set a new freshman standard in the lows last year. Junior Bill Gibson and Larry Kent, a sophomore, are other hurdle candidates.

Matthews is pointing his team for a varsity record in the mile relay. Springer, DeLaRonde, Mortland, and Thomas have been running this event indoors this winter,

Gunlock To Join BG Grid Staff; Schlosser Accepts Missouri Post

Two changes in the football coaching staff at Bowling Green State University were announced Sunday by President Ralph W. McDonald.

William L. Gunlock, assistant football and head baseball coach at Heidelberg College, will join the Falcon staff, under new head coach Doyt Perry, as soon as he can be conveniently released by Heidelberg officials.

Dr. McDonald also announced that Merle Schlosser, end coach last season, had resigned his position here to accept a similar post at the University of Missouri.

Gunlock, a former Chillicothe high school and Miami University gridiron star, has been the line coach at the Ohio Conference school for two seasons under Paul Hoerneman. The Student Princes won the OC crown last fall after being runner-up the year before.

Miami Gridder

At Miami, Gunlock was a 3-year letterman in football on the 1948-49-50 Redskin teams under coaches George Blackburn, now at University of Cincinnati, and Woody Hayes, Ohio State's head mentor. He earned all-Ohio honors at guard as a senior. Gunlock also was president of Tribe Miami, varsity lettermen's organization.

After receiving his degree in education with a major in physical education in 1951, Gunlock immediately was called to military service. While on special service duty at Brook Army Medical Center in Texas, the 26-year-old coach was a regular guard on the post team that received the nation's No. 2 ranking among service elevens.

After his service discharge in 1953, Gunlock accepted the Heidelberg post where he also has been an instructor in health and physical education.

Native Of Chillicothe

Gunlock is married and has two children, Tommy, 17 months, and Randy, only two weeks old.

Schlosser joined the Falcon

but their positions are not secure, with Chambers, Noss, Lennox, and Keith also candidates for positions.

In the pole vault Matthews has two lettermen, both of whom cleared 12' 6" last year, in Bill Bradshaw and Steve Mahoney. Jerry Webb returns from service to add further strength.

Moorehead Returns

Bradshaw also high jumps along with Kirt Rockel, Dill Asher, Kent, and Mortland. Herb Moorehead, third in the MAC last year with a leap of 22' 5", returns in the broad jump. Tucker, Lennox, and Jackson are also top candidates in this event.

In the shot, Matthews has sophomore Kenny Russell, with Jack Hecker and Jay England joining him in the discus.

All of the home meets will be held at night with the highlight of the schedule being the BG Relays on May 7. The schedule:

Tuesday, April 19—Wayne at BG
Saturday, April 23—Ohio Relays at Columbus
Wednesday, April 27—At Kent State

Co-Ed Badminton Tournament Entries Available At Gym

Entries for co-educational badminton are now available in the lobby of the Men's Gym, and are due March 21. Tournament play is scheduled to start at 7 p.m. March 23.

This tournament will be double elimination, with no team being eliminated until it has lost two matches. As soon as the entries are in, the tournament order will be drawn up, and the contestants notified of the time they are to play. Because more women are playing badminton at this time, they are expected to obtain male tournament partners.

Other events on the intramural calendar include a basketball "21" tournament at 7 p.m. Thursday in the Men's Gym. As there are no entry blanks, contestants should report to the Gym at the specified time. Entries are also now available for all-campus men's handball with entries due March 18, and play to begin March 21.

For additional information on these and other intramural events, consult the bulletin boards in the lobby of the Men's Gym, or phone the intramural office at 31621.

Style Show Scheduled Tonight For Charity

Clothes appropriate for Easter, commencement, summer, formals, and weddings will be modeled at the Wood County Hospital Guild style show, "One Enchanted Evening." The event will be held tonight at 8 p.m. in the main auditorium.

The style show story is of a girl named Susan who meets her man at a prom. It follows her through engagement parties, showers, and the wedding, with the entire wedding party on stage. The climax of the evening will be an actual reception afterwards in the recreation hall for all the persons seeing the show. The reception will feature the cutting of a huge wedding cake.

There will be a special drawing for a wedding gown. Only girls who are planning to get married in 1955 are eligible and they must be present to win. All persons attending, whether a prospective 1955 bride or not, will have a chance to win a knitted dress, purse, gloves, jewelry, stole, slip, or one of the other door prizes.

Tickets costing $1 will be available at the door. The proceeds will be used to purchase bedside table at the hospital and three new sewing machines for the Guild room.

Stutsman, Guthrie Attend Meeting

Two professors from Bowling Green's business education department attended the Annual Teacher Training Conference at Indiana University, March 11 and 12, according to Dr. Galen Stutsman, chairman of the department of business education.

About 200 professors from colleges in Indiana and surrounding states attended.

The conference theme was "Improving Methods Courses in Business Teacher Training Institutions."
